
Copyright and License:

At MedPulse Spectrum (MePus, MPS), author(s) retain full copyright of their published work. By submitting to the journal, authors grant MedPulse Spectrum the right of first publication and allow their articles to be freely accessible for research and academic purposes. Articles published in MedPulse Spectrum may be:

- Downloaded, stored, printed, presented, projected, cited, and quoted
- Freely shared and distributed
- Used without modification, with proper credit to the author(s) and MedPulse Spectrum

All articles are published under the CC BY-ND 4.0 International License, which permits sharing and redistribution in any medium or format, provided the work remains unchanged and is correctly attributed to the original authors and MedPulse Spectrum.

In cases where authors cannot retain copyright (e.g., U.S. government or Commonwealth employees), the copyright line and license will be adjusted accordingly, such as '© 2016 Crown copyright.' Authors must notify MedPulse Spectrum during or immediately after submission, as post-publication changes are not allowed.

Copyright and licensing terms may vary in special cases, such as prior publication under different policies or co-publication with other publishers. However, all articles will remain freely accessible without fees or access restrictions.